

TO ACCESS AMY'S ATTIC

Residents of Harrison County wishing to access Amy's Attic must be referred through agencies who participate in our program. Those agencies are Salvation Army, Clarksburg-Harrison Regional Housing Authority, Harrison County Schools, and Dept. of Health & Human Resources.

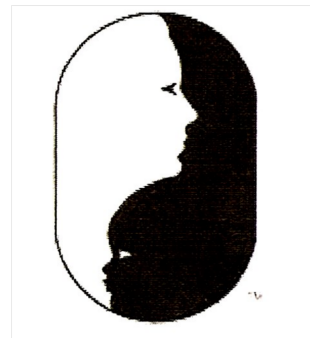

All items are free to participants. No money is exchanged at Amy's Attic.

Each slip is valid for 30 days and visits are limited to once per month. Participants may select items based on a point system during each visit. Each visit requires a new referral.

The Clarksburg League For Service is a non-profit organization whose goal is to operate and maintain charitable projects for families in Harrison County. Its members, community supporters and businesses make the charitable work of the organization possible.

In 1934, Amy Roberts Vance decided to develop an organization that would maintain projects to help families of Harrison County. This was the start of the Clarksburg League For Service.

With the vision of Amy going to her attic in the 1930's to gather needed goods to help families, the members of today felt For Goodness' Sake-Amy's Attic was the appropriate title for its 2005 debuting project to continue this philanthropy.

Amy's Attic supplies needed goods for children and families who might otherwise not be able to obtain them. Baby items, clothing and school supplies are the top featured items at Amy's Attic.

The League fundraises to purchase new items and also collects nearly new items from it's members and community donations. All donations to Amy's Attic are tax deductible.

The Clarksburg League For Service partners with schools and social service agencies to obtain referrals to be served.
